The Bone Sparrow

ZANA FRAILON

Subhi ✓

In this book we can see that for the almost full book that we were in a pov of Subhi. She tells us everything about her life and what happens inside the Detention center

Subhi is a kind, caring boy that is in a detention center with his friends and family and he loves all of them. He always checks up on people and is always cautious about his family

She explains to us what it is like living in the detention centre and tells us what her maa told her about mistreated Rohingya People

“Maa won't wake up. She has just stopped. Sometimes her eyes open, but she isn't really there. She isn't really seeing” (Pg 135)

When Subhi's mum woke up he was nervous and scared for her. It made him get sad and quiet when talking to Jimmie later

Imagination ✓

I think in this story it is important to have good Imagination. I think that all characters should have good Imagine because it is good to predict the outside world.

Another thing that is really good when having a great Imagination is when you are bored you could use your imagination to cure your boredom

“Sometimes they ask me to draw them things that I haven't ever seen. Then they talk and talk until I can see it in my head” (Pg 157)

When having a good imagination you can try and imagine what it would be like outside of the DC

“With the sea pushing in and out against me going on forever and ever and with me breathing in the wind” (Pg 14)

When being in a detention centre and having nothing to entertain yourself, you could use your imagination to have fun

Family and friends ✓

I think for Subhi the most important thing about being in a detention centre and being isolated would be having your family and friends by your side to help when you need

When having family and friends by your side it makes you feel as if you are safer and that “when we are here everything will be OK” and All will be OK

For an example when Subhi would be awaken from a nightmare their are her family to comfort and put back to

“I kneel down and squash my head next to his through the fence so our fears fall and mix together onto the ants running rings around us” (Pg 141)

For an example. Even though Eli is through a fence, Subhi is still there to comfort him and hold his hand. It makes Eli feel safe

Treatment of refugees and asylum seekers ✓

Subhi knew ways that they treat rohingya people from Maa's stories and how they got abused and beat up by police and other authorities

In this book their were mistreatments about refugees in the detention centre but we also know about the mistreatment of rohingya people from Maa's stories

Subhi was told stories from his maa about her rohingya refugees were mistreated and told they were useless

“Ishan was told the police joined in. They can do anything to us there, anything at all. People have been murdered and nobody does anything” (Pg 139)

In this book the refugees that are in the detention center are being isolated and guarded by a fence and living with little food and water

“All the while in my head I can see these six men who haven't eaten or drank a thing for three days” (Pg 149)

Stories + storytelling

The Power of stoires ✓

Some of these stories could be confronting to Subhi because Maa used to tell stories about rohingya people getting abused and killed by authorities

I think storytelling in the book is really powerful for most of the characters in this Book. It can calm them down and let them know it will be ok

“They put people in the transit centre and they got beaten up and kicked. The police were there but they didn't even try to stop it” (Pg 139)

For an example, one of Maa's stories were about how rohingya peoples houses were burnt down and how they got shot

“I can't remember the last time Maa said anything either. Not even a kiss good morning” (Pg 137)

For an example Subhi really likes having her maa tell him stories but she never does anymore

Queeny ✓

Queeny may act like a tough sister on the outside but on the inside she gets scared that the night sea will come and wash her away

Queeny can be a kind and empathetic person. When Subhi is having a rough night and can't sleep, Queeny is always there to put her back to sleep.

It is the connection between Jimmie and Queeny. Queeny is being very nice, caring, empathetic for Subhi.

“I suddenly get a feeling like when I was little and I'd awake from my nightmares. Queeny was always there to hush me back to sleep” (Pg 34)

Queeny begs to differ but Subhi can tell when she is scared, sad, and emotional.

“Even though she doesn't believe, I can tell she is scared the night is coming to wash her away” (Pg 143)

Eli ✓

Eli is a fearless friend. He is empathetic, he loves to talk with Subhi and sometimes he can be a emotional creature. It killed him that he had to get moved to Alpha.

Eli always likes to open up Subhi and tell him how much a good brother he is to him and how he is his family. Even though they are still the best

This shows how much Eli can trust Subhi and for Subhi to be the 1 person that Eli can cry to when he needs to.

“They aren't safe we won't even have enough money to buy food. How are we supposed to live” (Pg 139)

This Just shows the connection between Eli and Subhi. Even though they only talk through a fence they still have the best [illegible]

“Eli shakes his head and cries even harder. Go where Subhi?, you're my family. You're all I have got” (Pg [illegible])

Jimmie ✓

Even though that Jimmie has a much different living condition compared to Subhi, she still tries her best to regulate and understand with Subhi. She loves to try and get involved like bringing a Subhi Hot Chocolate

Jimmie is a sweet caring girl that cares for Subhi the same way he does to her. She has a big passion for her mums books and loves to read them to Subhi while having some nice Hot Chocolate.

“About having their houses burnt down and their animals being killed. About not being able to go to school or to work or to the Hospital” (Pg [illegible])

Jimmie lives in a nice modern family house not far from the detention centre. She lives with her brother and her dad.

“It has been 3 years since Jimmie last heard her mum whisper her voice. Three years since every part of her life changed.” (Pg 20)

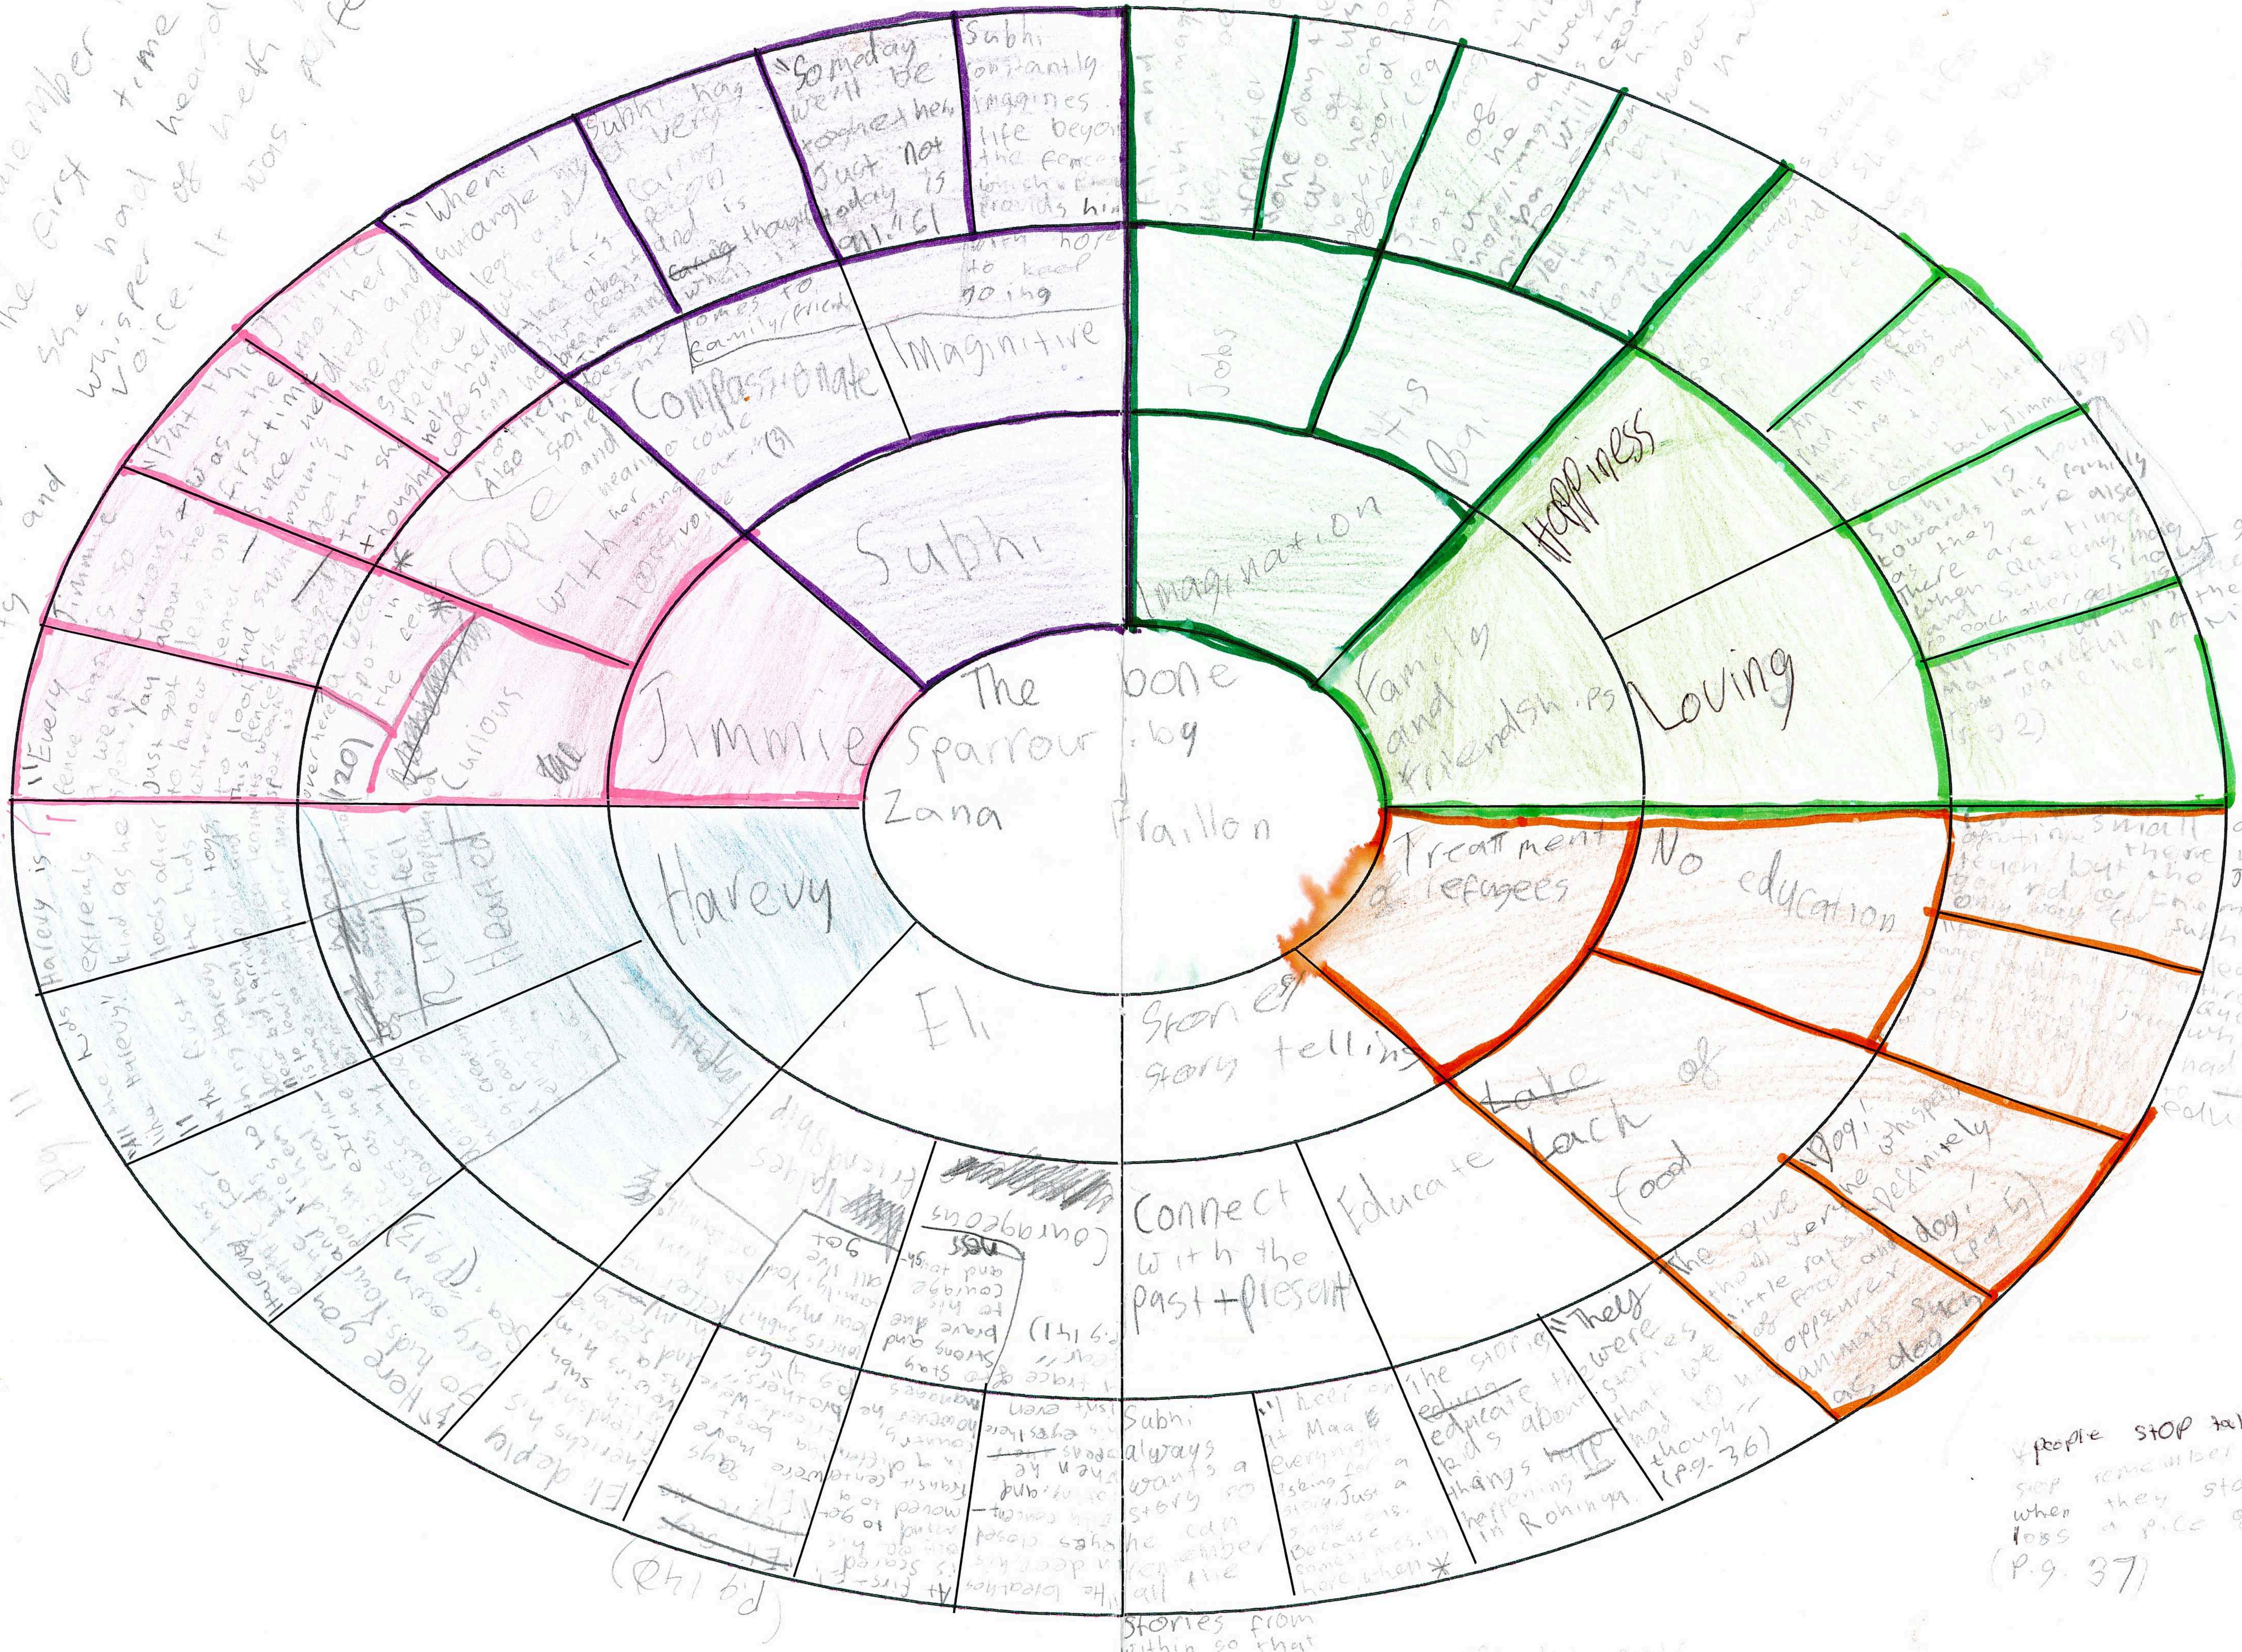
When Jimmie always meets up with Subhi, she likes to bring a furnace and her mums book to read with Subhi

“Jimmie hands me the book. Now it's time for mums story she says. And I read” (Page 98)

Olivia

*to remember it. The first time that she had heard the whisper of her mum voice. It was perfect.

due to her optimism and curiosity



"When I wrangle my legs ..."

Subhi has a very caring person and is thoughtful when it comes to family/friends

"Someday we'll be together. Just not today is all." (61)

Subhi constantly imagines life beyond the fences

Jimmie mother died and her sparrow necklace helps her cope

"But this was the first time since her mum's death that she thought"

Also her mother's stories and meaning could hear her mum's voice (3)

"Every fence has a weak spot. You just got to know where to look, and this fence's weak spot is over here" (120)

Jimmie is so curious about the fence and Subhi

"in the centre"

Harvey is extremely kind as he looks after the kids

Subhi is loving towards his family as they are also. There are times when Queeny, Maa and Subhi shout at each other, get them through the rough times

"An ... in my legs ..." (pg 81)

"... Maa — careful not ... wake her" (pg 2)

~~For~~ small amount of time ... there was a teach but they got rid of them. The Jackie's only way for Subhi to learn was through Queeny, which also had little to no education.

"Dog! ... whispers ... Dog!" (pg 5)

The give them very little rations of food and oppenents animals such as dogs

Subhi always wants a story so he can remember all the stories from within so that he dosent loss apart of himself

"I hear ... Maa ... everynight asking for a story. Just a single one. Because sometimes ... here when *

The stories ~~educte~~ educate the kids about things ~~hap~~ happening in Rohinga.

"They were stories that we had to ... though" (P.g. 36) *people stop talking stop remembering. Thats when they start to loss a piece of themselves" (P.g. 37)

Eli deeply cherishes his friends ...
